

Quadrangle Liaison Committee Terms of Reference

1. Purpose of QLC

To interact with the owner of the Quadrangle Shopping Centre, Dr Stanley Quek, and his consultant team on behalf of the Residents of Castlecrag, to ensure, to the maximum extent possible, a satisfactory outcome to the proposed development of the Quadrangle by Dr Quek.

The formation of such a group is an initiative of the Castlecrag Progress Association (the "CPA").

2. Composition of QLC

The QLC is to consist of 3 members of the CPA which acts as a conduit between the QLC and the Residents using The Crag, CPA general meetings and the CPA Network:

- John Steel – Vice President
- Paul Stokes – Secretary
- Lindy Batterham – Editor, The Crag

Plus a number of local residents with professional skills relevant to understanding and assessing any proposal from the Agents:

- Gabrielle Morrish –Professional skill: Urban Design & Architecture

With over 30 years of experience, Gabrielle's extensive skills cover all aspects of urban design, architecture and Expert Witness Services to the Land & Environment Court. She has practiced in the private sector, State and Local Government in Sydney and London including executive and managerial roles in Government such as Director of UDAS reporting to the Minister for Planning and Premier of NSW.

- Stuart Frith – Professional skill: Financial analysis

Stuart Frith is a financial services technology executive with extensive experience in Asia and Europe. He and his wife Fiona & 2 sons have lived in Castlecrag since 1999 (with a 5 year excursion to London) initially in The Bulwark and now in Charles street. He admires the built environment legacy of Griffin/Mahoney and the community spirit that evolved as a result of the initial residents attracted by Griffin's vision, and which remains in the community today.

- Luke Hastings – Professional skill: Legal and Economics

3. The Role of the QLC

The role of the QLC is to:

- meet with the owner and consultant team to discuss emerging developments plans and proposed engagement processes with key stakeholders including the local community,
- participate with other stakeholders in engagement events conducted by the owner and consultant team
- assess those plans on behalf of the residents,
- communicate with the Residents; and
- reflect the Resident's views to the consultant team; and
- find a mutually satisfactory outcome for the development.
